

The planned action by Sinclair Broadcasting's to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is exactly what millions of us protested would happen if media companies were allowed to own too much of any given market.

The FCC has been incredibly remiss in protecting the public's airwaves. Not only will I protest every Sinclair station's license to renew, but I will do my utmost to revoke the terms of the sitting FCC chair and commissioners.

You thought you saw public fury over the previous plan to allow media consolidation: You haven't seen anything yet--and it will be aimed at the FCC, not just Sinclair. I promise, as an involved citizen. .
